

FACT

Small photo on the wall above the door in the Big Hall says "No."

Cordelia Montrose was the most celebrated bride-to-be in Long Beach society. Her wedding to Sebastian Crane was planned for late 1925.

FACT

Three people died in October 1925: Alice Whitmore, Sebastian Crane, and Cordelia Montrose. The deaths were shrouded in secrecy and quickly covered up.

FACT

The Montrose family changed their public narrative after 1925. Several family members moved away. There was a deliberate effort to distance

FACT

The mansion on Kennebec Avenue has been in the Montrose family for generations. It contains original furniture and belongings from the 1920s era.

FACT

Dr. Thaddeus Crane was the town physician in Long Beach in 1925. He was respected and trusted by the community.

FACT

The Crane family changed their surname from Crane to Sinclair in the 1960s. The official reason given was for business and privacy purposes.

FACT

Three deaths in October 1925 were officially attributed to accident, homicide, and natural causes. All three were pronounced by the same

FACT

The Crane family has a dark history. Something significant happened to the family around 1925 that they have kept secret for nearly 100 years.

FACT

Silas Blackwell was the mortician in 1925. The autopsy records are still at the mortuary.

FACT

The Montrose family fortune is substantial and has been managed through trusts dating back to the 19th century.

FACT

Sebastian Crane and Cordelia Montrose signed a pre-nuptial agreement on August 15, 1925. They were engaged.

FACT

Large payments were made from the Montrose estate in October 1925 to cover 'discretionary expenses' and 'legal matters.'

FACT

Professor Hartley was a celebrated predecessor who was an accomplished botanist and naturalist. He was highly respected in academic circles

FACT

The previous Professor Hartley was known for his willingness to consult on botanical matters for various businesses and entrepreneurs during the

FACT

The predecessor Professor Hartley was a charming, ambitious man who believed in practical applications of botanical knowledge and didn't concern himself too much with the ethics of his clients' intentions.

FACT

Elias Monroe was a talented dressmaker who created wedding gowns for prominent Long Beach families.

FACT

Cordelia Montrose's wedding dress was created with meticulous care but remained unworn. She never became a bride.

FACT

The wedding dress contains a lock of Cordelia's hair—likely from her final dress fitting before she died.

FACT

Cordelia Montrose disappeared for months in early 1925, then returned changed and withdrawn. Even her best friend Alice hadn't seen her.

FACT

Elias Monroe kept notes on a rose bread recipe that Cordelia gave him—she wanted the recipe passed to Eleanor Sullivan. This suggests a deep family connection between Cordelia and Eleanor.

FACT

Cordelia's personal diary is in the possession of the Heiress. The Dressmaker knows this and believes the diary is essential to understanding what truly

FACT

The mansion on Kennebec Avenue contains many rooms that have been sealed or unused for decades.

FACT

There is an abandoned garage on the Montrose property that appears to have been deliberately sealed in 1925.

FACT

There was a celebrated psychic medium in the 1920s who was known throughout Long Beach society for genuine abilities and accurate readings.

FACT

Alice Whitmore was trained by and worked closely with that predecessor psychic medium. Alice was considered one of the most gifted students.

FACT

The predecessor medium's journals and notes are kept in the family archives. They contain records of readings and spiritual consultations from

FACT

The Romano family controlled significant business operations in Long Beach, particularly at the harbor.

FACT

Frankie Romano was known as a shrewd businessman with connections to illegal smuggling operations during Prohibition.

FACT

Several valuable artifacts in the mansion are actually Romano family imports—pieces smuggled through their operation.

FACT

The Sullivan family bakery was destroyed in a fire in the 1980s-1990s. The fire was never properly investigated.

FACT

Eleanor Sullivan is part of the Sullivan family but there are hints that she may have a connection to the Montrose family.

FACT

Cordelia Montrose disappeared from Long Beach for three months in early 1925 (May-August). Family records show she was sent on an 'extended European tour,' but no passenger records exist for this journey.

FACT

After her mysterious disappearance, Cordelia returned visibly changed—thinner, sadder, with a haunted expression. She was distant and reclusive for weeks, avoiding her usual social circles.

FACT

From Dr. Thaddeus's medical notes: 'October 10, 1925 - I have made a terrible mistake. I cannot undo what has been done. Sebastian is dying and it is my